Sentences on prisoners conviced were pronounced by Mr. Justice Y. Regarding Ronald Smith, convicted of the killing of Ernest Lionel Lorenz on February 28, the Court said he would take into account the jury's recommendation to mercy. He pointed out that he had power-to ignore it, but did not intend to do so. "My impression during the trial," said he, "is that you were callous and were not conscience-stricken with what you have done." As to the jury's expression of disapprowal of some motion picture shows. His Lordship repeated what he had said to the grand jury, that personally he had seen nothing wrong with them. His Lordship pointed out that if the prisoner showed repentance and good conduct the sentence might be shortened by the authorities. Thomas Herbert Burton was the boy who was with Smith when Lorenz was killed. H. C. Hall, K.C., on behalf of the Crown, expressed the hope that Burton might be sent to the reformatory instead of the pentientiary, because of his youth and because he had turned King's evidence. J. A. Alkman also made a strong plea for a sentence to the reformatory. The boy had apparently been of good character until last December, when he was led astray. The boy had no idea that murder was going to be committed when he went out that night with Smith.

In pronouncing sentence His Lordship pointed out, as in the Smith case, that a mitigation of the sentence might be obtained by repentance and good conduct.

With Dying Breath.

Simon John made a declaration that he would protest his innocence with his dying breath. He asked for consideration for the sake of his wife and child, now thereen months old.

and child, now thirteen months old.

Mr. Justice Macdonaid—Where are they?

Simon John—They may be here present in court. He went on to explain that his wife is pregnant and will be delivered in August. He asked that his sentence commence from the date of his arrest.

The judge said accused had received a fair trial, and had been positively identified by Miss Burchett. The accused had the opportunity of submitting himself as a witness and denying the statement, but had failed to do so. "As to the Indians of this Province," said His Lordship. "I have been here a number of years and I never heard of a pure blooded Indian attacking a white woman. You are a half-breed. Whether that makes a difference is not for me to say, but the Indians as a race have not any stain attached to them for the verdict against you." In the case of Charles Brigden, the application for a new trial was made on two grounds. It was contended that evidence as to letters taken in May should not have been admitted in connection with a charge of stealing letters in June. Also it was contended that the Court erred in allowing the jury to go and view the post office in the absence of the accused. After some argument on these points the adjournment was agreed upon.

CHINESE BANDITS MAY RELEASE CAPTIVES IN TWO OR THREE DAYS

Negotiations With Chinese Government Representatives Appear to Be In Progress; Threat By Bandits of Death For Captives Is Reported.

Washington, May 18 .- Minister Schurman reported to the State Department to-day that negotiations for release of the foreigners held by the Chinese bandits appeared to be in progress between the handit leaders and representatives of the Chinese between the bandit leaders and representatives of the Chinese Government and that the prisoners might be released within two or three days.
Shanghai, May 18.—British and United States captives of the Shantung bandits will be shot next Tuesday if the Chinese troops are not withdrawn, according to the "final ultimatum" of the bandits, brought from the mountain stronghold to-day by Marcel Oliver Barube, a French citizen, one of the prisoners, who was released for the purpose.

A statement on the situation created by the Suchow train bandits in China, issued by the State Department in Washington last night was based on reports from Mr. Schurman, United States Minister to China, 1s said:

"It is probable, although not certain, that the unwillingness of General Ho, who is not a Chihil party manto withdraw his troops has caused the delay and confusion in this matter. General Ho's troops had almost succeeded in starving out the brigands at Paotauku when the train was wrecked by another brigand band, which captured the foreigners for the purpose of using them to trade for the release of their besieged comrades. There is much talk that the enemies of the Chihil party staged the outrage in order to embarrass the present Cabinet.

"Apparently the terms of the brigands have not yet been formulated. Nevertheless, they are understood to be the riffisiag of the Paotauku slege and the taking of all the bandits into the Chinese army Apparently the bandits have not yet demanded a feath ransom.

the Chinese army. Apparently the bandits have not yet demanded a cash ransom.

Lay Blame on Foreigners.

"The Minister of Communications, Admiral Wu Yu Lin, has been at Lincheng since last week and has made several reports, all of which, however, have been rather indefinite. The Minister of Communications admits that he is not sure what the brigands' terms are, but nevertheless blames the magnitude of them on 'foreign interference.' The Chinese Government will undoubtedly do everything to shift the blame on the foreigners for anything that goes wrong, and on account of this the diplomatic body has steadfastly refused to take any part in the negotiations with the bandits, which the Chinese Government might use again excuse to shirk or shift its own selvious responsibility."

The Metchosin committee, fully recognize the honor extended to their representative and the chairman announces his intention of making arrangements forthwith for the elected Queen and her maids of honor to attend the rehearsal in Victoria.

It is understood also that the Metchosin Queen will take precedence over Sooke Harbor Queen, as an elected Queen against one appointed by acclamation, and whether the representative of the district be Miss Connie Blake, the farmers' candidate, or Miss Peggy Brown the Women's candidate, it will be a matter of congratulation to the community when the successful one is publicly crowned "Queen of Agriculture."

Hon. S. F. Tolmie Shares in Ottawa Budget Debate

W. D. Euler Urges Valuation of Whole C. N. R. System

Ottawa, May 18.—Hon. S. F. Tol-nie, member-for Victoria, B.C.; W. D. Euler, Liberal member for North Vaterloo, Ont.; Dr. R. K. Anderson, Conservative member for Halton, Ont.; J. W. Findiay, Progressive tember for South Bruce, Ont., and everal other members shared in the udget debate in the Commons yes-orday afternoon and last night.

several other members shared in the budget debate in the Commons yesterday afternoon and last night.

Expects No Excitement.

Dr. Tomie said that when first he heard of the Progressive amendment he thought there might be excitement at the vote. But on reading its terms he had come to the conclusion, so he told a laughing House, that he division would be as exciting as waving a red flag over a dead bull."

It was satisfactory, said Dr. Tolmie, that the opinion was gaining ground that Canada should have a certain amount of protection, particularly to view of the customs tariffs imposed by other countries and the difficulty of making up the revenue without customs duty. Furthermore, there was the matter of competition. To-day Canada was facing competition from the other side of the Pacific through cheap transportation to Canadian shores. Japan had a splendid steamship service, and was able to place her goods in Canada in some cases more cheaply than they could be manufacthred at home. Dr. Tolmie expressed appreciation of the bounty on copper included in the budget. This, he said, would benefit a smelter near Rossland, without that industry.

The amendment moved by Mr. Forke, said Dr. Tolmie, was very interesting, particularly from the fact that the Progressives had taken planks from the Liberal platform of 1913 to bring in an amendment to the Liberal budget of 1923. The amendment, however, Dr. Tolmie hold, included certain clauses which would prevent its proving very harmful. The event would be very interesting, however, in that it would mark a public farewell on the part of the Government to the Liberal platform of 1919.

Farm increases Urged.

of the Government to the Liberal platform of 1919.

Farm Increases Urged.

Dr. Tolmie urged the necessity for the Canadian farmer to build up and improve. Vast amounts of money each year were being lost by marketing scrub cattle. In dairying, too, the breeding up of the cows was most essential. The hog and bacon industry was similarly susceptible to improvement. There was no reason why Canada could not produce hogs of the finest quality and get her full share of the British market. Canada was far behind other parts of the Empire, as well as other countries of the world, in the production of sheep and wool. He thought this particular industry should receive every encouragement, and urged the Government to put in force the fifteen percent tariff on wool which, he understood, was provided for but never had been enforced.

BRANCHES OF CHURCH

Wool.

To-day the sheep population of Canada totalled only 1,500,000. Countries which were successfully growing sheep and combing wool were permitted to ship their products into Canada duty free to compete with the struggling Canadian industry. The Japanese were invading the Canadian market and Australian wool, which was bonused to the extent of five or six cents a pound, was also a competitor. Dr. Tolmie said he would not only enforce the tariff, but he would also give a bonus for wool combing.

The former Minister of Agriculture advocated encouraging the industries which were engaged in the manufacture was able to do ussiness, he would create a steady demand for wool and Canada. If the manufacturer was able to do ussiness, he would create a steady demand for wool and Canada sheep population would soon increase.

HOME INDUSTRIES.

Every Victorian desires to see this community expand as it should and will expand if the people as a whole will make it their business to co operate in the process that must be the forerunner of greater population and increased industrial activity.

To-night's meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium will be convened for the purpose of giving interested and influential people an opportunity of learning what can be done by the individual. Representatives of the various women's organizations of the city have been invited to lead the discussion and Industrial Commissioner Martyn and Mr. J. L. Beckwith will address the gathering.

It should not be necessary to emphasize the importance of a conference of this kind. It follows that local progress cannot be assured by the efforts of one or two people or one or two groups of active workers. They may preach the gospel of stimulating the demand for the local article until they are blue in the face; but, unless community determination to heed the advice shall be the same time the possibilities ahead of this immediate community, and that larger area which might well be styled Greater Victoria, are so enormous as to warrant repeated reference.

Nor should it be forgotten that Victoria need not worry about giant factories and consider them as the only means of industrial salvation. There is a growing tendency to specialize at the present time. It has arisen out of a condition which must recognize every country's desire and aim to produce more than it requires.

After this community has added to its population, both by the holiday route and by the development of the industry and payroll that lies at our backyard, it will discover numerous avenues that will lead to the establishment of industries that will not require free grants or taxation exemptions to make their commencement feasible.

Meanwhile the people of Victoria should educate themselves in fundamental principles. Those who have not learned it may get their first lesson at the meeting which will be held in the Chamber at the meeting which will be held in the of Commerce auditorium this evening.

THE WEALTH THAT WAITS.

People who object to a more liberal immigration policy, because they imagine there would be less work if our population were larger, seem to ignore the fact that there is a migrationperhaps not as serious as some believe—from Canada to the United States where there are 110,000,000 people. It does not follow that all those Canadians who cross the border find our neighbor's country an Eldorado; but the point to remember is that most of them find a niche and begin to produce. In other words they justify their admission and increase the wealth of their adopted country by their own endeavor. This in turn broadens the industrial and agricultural field upon which others may go and settle and

If Canada were not a land of great natural resources it would be an entirely different matter. But when it comes to assessing our national wealth on a per capita basis we find that the Canadian is the richest man in the world. It will be argued that this pleasant picture does not get him very far. Quite true; but what is the reason? In dealing with this very question The Manitoba free Press pointedly suggests that a fish in the lake is not worth anything until it is neatly spread in the frying pan. Nor does the tree in the forest become valuable until it can be made into lumber. Consequently if this Canadian who is enormously wealthy on paper is actually hard up in reality it is purely because he is waiting for other people to help him to dig up the coin that rightly belongs to him.

We contend that the Dominion of Canada can absorb all the people who care to come here. British Columbia should be supporting, and it would be a simple matter if all our natural resources were attacked in an energetic manner, not 500,000 but 10,000,000 people. Vancouver Island alone is infinitely richer than Bel-Island alone is infinitely richer than Belgium; her timber is in excess of that of Sweden; and yet this part of the Province can boast of only two paper mills as against Sweden's 200. It is people we want—people to catch the fish and cut the trees and dig the minerals and cultivate the land. Give them a chance to do these things—not govern their entrance to this country by a lot of silly regulations—and they will come. It will then be much simpler for those who are here to make a living in one of the greatest countries of the world.

London Times:—The Russian peasant may grow and eat his own food and almost ignore the world outside this village. In England ninety-nine hundredths of the population would lose their livelihood almost at once if the intricate machine of our economic and industrial system ceased to work. in one of the greatest countries of the world.

It is to be hoped that when British Columbia's representative sets his programme in motion in Great Britain he will emphasize these salient features of Canada's needs and Canada's promises to to ask the university. It is not, however, too much to ask the university to economize for a period of time to the industrious. The wealth is here and he can show it in figures that may not be challenged.

Surely there are men and women of red enough blood in their veins to come to this country and do what many of their compatriots have done under conditions twice as exacting as those that will be encountered in this more modern day.

ALBERTA UNIVERSITY.

Calgary Herald:—The citizens of Alberta wish to be generous to the university. It is not, however, too much to appear to the university to economize for a period of time to the spending bodies should judge carefully in these lumes as to the necessity of every item of proposed excallent to appear that can be saved. It is the duty of President Tory and his advisers to decide, whether the university can do without the university is ambitious beyond the financial strength of the province.

TORONTO'S WAY.

Plenty of support will be accorded the Judge in the Women's Court at Toronto in ordering the lash applied to men guilty of assault on women. Reports of cases in which this form of punishment has been ordered indicate that prisoners show extreme signs of uneasiness when this sentence is given.

There can be no doubt about the efficacy of the lash. It should be ordered a good deal more frequently than is the case at present. A man who beats or assaults a woman is a coward and a coward hates to be hurt himself. And the public coward hates to be hurt himself. And the public should not be so prone to sob for the criminals and ignore the victim. New York's Police Commissioner points out that the victim is remembered until the criminal is caught. After that the latter usually becomes the centre of sympathetic interest—as if he or she were innocent and in great jeopardy.

word that if writers would sign their names instead of a nom de plume, I would like to reply to Mr. Pomeroy, as briefly as possible. I was not aware that it was detrimental to myself or the interests of the municipality, to be a friend of the sentleman. I choose my own friends. The Reeve is not my next door neighbor.

It goes without saying that the practice of sending flowers to the convicted murderer awaiting death on the scaffold embodies an extraordinary conception of justice, and the sooner it, and other forms of misplaced sentimentalism, ceases the better the chance will be to decrease the number of victims of foul play.

HONORS IN BRITAIN.

Even Great Britain is getting nervy about honors and the honors system. The Lord Chan-cellor has introduced a bill in the House of Lords that provides for severe penalties for persons 'touting for honors or accepting gifts for obtaining honors." The measure is known as the Honors Prevention of Abuses Bill—quite an intriguing title-and the penalties actually provide for a term of imprisonment not exceeding two years, or a fine not exceeding £500.

This announcement will probably come as a surprise to Premier Smuts and his colleagues in the South African Parliament. Only the other day the House voted down a resolution, moved by Labor Leader Cresswell, which sought to ask behind them, very little tangible results from the King to refrain from conferring any more ch a campaign can be expected.

What this section of Vancouver Island could strained to believe that Gladstone and Chamberand should do is getting to be an old subject. At lain were about right in their attitude towards

BRING THEM BACK.

Ottawa might reasonably reconsider the case of the Canadian ex-service men who took their discharge in Great Britain and now find themselves in difficulties. After spending $25,000 of the $150,000 allocated for the repatriation process the whole scheme appears to have been dropped last month. This would seem to be particularly unfortunate in view of the fact that conditions under which assistance could be obtained included a provision that the applicant should get a promise of employment in this country before returning. The plan did not become effective until last October and actually operated during the very months when unemployment in this country is obviously at its peak. Now is surely the time to let these men take advantage of the grant. After all this country needs more people and the least that could be offered to former members of the C. E. F. is a chance to get back to Canada with as little difficulty as pos-

NOTE AND COMMENT

Moscow reports that hundreds of provincial Russians are volunteering their services to the Soviet Government in the event of a conflict between Great Britain and Russia. This is all very interesting, at least it would be interesting in the facts about this report.

Leonid Krassin has scorned the idea that British workmen could be bought with Russian money. Here is an obvious indication of wisdom and good judgment. The average workingman in Britain is in the habit of doing his thinking for himself. He does not maintain an Extraordinary Committee at some central point to tell him what he shall do, eat and wear.

We are reminded that the forest fire season is once more with us. According to Forestry Branch statistics Vancouver Island district already records fifty-three fires. Which means that those people who use the out-of-doors should be particularly careful about the manner in which they dispose of eigarette and eigar ends, of how they leave the remains of the camp fire. Careless-ness in this connection is merely taking money out of the pockets of the people of the Province.

TRAINED ANIMAL CRUELTY.

To the Editor:—In support of the timely and well-founded objection of the S. P. C. A. that no part of the money collected from the public to aid in the coming three days' Frolic festivities should be employed in paying for an exhibition of trained animals, which will deeply offend the humane instinct of so large a section of the public, I ask you to be good enough to publish the inclosed article from the latest (May) issue of The Humane Pleader, of Toronto, which speaks for itself, and oblige.

Victoria, B. C. May 15, 1923.

London, March 23.—The House of Commons to-day, by a vote of 169 to 35, gave second reading to a bill designed to prevent cruelty in the training and exhibition of performing animals.

The bill provides for the registering of trainers and training places and empowers the police to enter any place where they have reason to believe training is carried on. It also empowers the Home Secretary to prohibit the training or to impose apecial conditions on the training and performances of anthropoid apes and the larger carnivora.—Mail and Empire.

tween Great Britain and Russia. This is all very interesting, at least it would be interesting if true; but there will be very few people in the world who will believe this funny Moscow yarn.

Canada's League of Nations Society is to meet in Ottawa. We shall look forward to the day when every town, city and hamlet will be able to boast of a subsidiary organization that has for its aim and object universal peace. Until peace be comes as popular as polities the war-mongers will be able to get in their nefarious work.

The monthly meeting of the board of directors of the King's Daughters' Hospital was held Wednesday. The board has decided to purchase a new Victor X-ray machine, thoroughly up-to-date. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $1,700. There are a great many accident cases always coming in and a machine is badly needed. The chairman reported that the new operating room had recently been painted and enamelled and looks very well. The grounds have also been cleaned up and debris burned.

The number of patients treated was eighty-four in and five out; days treatment, 989; average per day, thirty-three; turnover, $2,715.40. Miss Hiley is leaving to assume charge of Salt Spring Island Hospital

Mrs. W. C. Nichol to Place Wreath on Victoria Day; Support Ex-Service Men

Hearty endorsation of the Canadian Legion's stand regarding the matter of pensions to disabled men and the dependents of fallen soldiers was given by the Municipal Chapter, L. O. D. E., at its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. The meeting also went on record in support of the action of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association in the same matter, the members expressing their desire to back the ex-service men in their appeal for fair and just treatment at the hands of the Federal Government.

A case of alleged unfair dismissal of a returned disabled man was brought to the attention of the members and will be fully investigated by the Order with a view to action. Mrs. David Miller gave an excellent report upon the Provincial Chapter meeting and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks. The matter of the maternity work of the Order again came up for consideration and Mrs. George Miles was suggested as convener of this committee. At 9 o'clock, Mrs. Walter Nichol, Provincial President, will place a wreath on the plinth while the standardbearers of the chapters stand at attention. Representatives of the three local children's chapters will also deposit wreaths. The I. O. D. E. standardbearers will then remain on guard until the arrival of the May Queens who are to place their bouquets on the statue. Later in the day the school children will place posies on the plinth, the Municipal Chapter having offered a prize for the best posy placed there by a child under fifteen years of age. The chapter will also participate in the outdoor service arranged by the ex-service men on June 3 before the Parliament Buildings, when their standardbearers of the Order will be in attendance.

After soaking, only the most soiled clothes need a light rubbing with dry Rinso.

Your clothes don't need boiling if you use Rinso. But if you like to boil your white cottons, use enough Rinso solution to get the suds you like.

NOTE: In hard water it takes from 1/4 to 1 package of Rinso to a tub to make good suds. In very herd water you will need from 1/2 to 2 packages to a tub to get the big lesting suds that loosen all the dirt.

The company is prepared to call for bids and start construction as soon as it has assurances that the United States mail contract will be continued for a period of ten years.

The programme for the construction of the liners, which will be turbo-electric, twin-screw, and capable of nineteen knots, and the subsequent improvement of the American service between San Francisco and Sydney, N. with shark-like fins presented a curious spectacle yesterday. The dog fish cut the water viciously as they darted here and there feeding, it is presumed, on some form of minute marine life that floated on the surface. The prey could not be seen with the naked eye, only tiny whirls in the water gave indication of the presence of the animalculae.

At this time last year the same phemonenon appeard and then it was that Jäpanese fishermen were given a special permit to catch the dog fish, which they took for the sake of the fish livers. Japanese are said to be seeking a return of this privilege this year. The dog fish is caught with long lines baited with herring. The fish is cut open and the liver removed, and the rest of the fish thrown away. Last year one Japanese boat caught 25 tons in a single day in this manner, saving the livers only. The fish, minus the liver, were returned to the water and there eaten by their kind. Dog fish make excellent fertilizer and much of the waste product could be utilized in this manner, it is stated.

TEST LOCAL INVENTION

A test of a sprinkling device for irrigation and other purposes was made by the Fire Department to-day for J. W. Pomeroy, local inventor of the device. Under the pressure of the fire hose the sprinkler covered a circle of ground with a diameter of about 150 feet. Under the great pressure of the water the spray broke, the pressure proving a little too much for the device as at present constituted. The fire department is watching the test, which might possibly be of use in roof protection. One similar to the sprinkler on test to-day is now installed at the Sidney saw mill with that end in view. Dry shingles occasion a great deal of work for the Fire Department, it is stated. As a result of the test certain improvements are to be made to the local invention. Kirch, a former importer, was acquitted several weeks ago of a charge of conspiring to import liquor unhawfully on the steamer Javary.

Disclosures made to Government officials by the crew of the Yankton, which limped into port several days ago out of provisions and fuel, were said to have resulted in the issuance of the warrants.

The primary grade course is for the little ones, and is one of the most interesting of the teachers' classes.

Children are taken into the Summer school for practical work on the part of the teachers'.

The Art course attracts many students during the term. This is divided under the following headings: Object drawing, nature drawing, classes, blackboard drawing, art geometry, scale drawing and lettering. This is the first year course. The second year is very similar, but covers High School work. The third year is merely an advance of the second year course.

Manual training, instructor A. E. Hutton, Calgary, is a course that is essential to teachers of this line. The course is a good one and most interesting. Cardboard work, designing, pedagogics and other subjects for work are included in this course.

Home economics includes sewing.

Captain Robert Gardner, of the American team, and Robert Harris, leader of the Egitish blayers, yesterday afternoon selected the men who are to make the struggle in the foursomes. Many expressed surprise on learning that Dr. O. P. Willing, of Portland, Ore, and Fred Wright, jr., of Los Angeles, were not included in Gardner's list.

Willing Second Best.

Dr. Willing, on his record since reaching Engiand, is second only to Francis Quimet anyong the dozen of amateurs who crossed the ocean a month ago. The organism tied Quimet in stroke competition for the St. George's Cup, which Oulmet finally won, and remained in the running for the championship at Deal until every American except Quimet had been eliminated. He went down 2 and 1 to Roger Wethered, the same score by which that brilliant British youth disposed of Quimet the following day.

Since coming to St. Andrews three days ago for practice, Dr. Willing's play, for steadiness and sureness, surpassed that of any of the American players on the figures shown by his card. Only yesterday morning, in playing in foursomes, in which Gardner also participated, Willing got a 76. This score was made in a howling, slinging gale, and was better than any other turned in yesterday, either by an American or British player.

Captain Gardner, in explaining why he had not chosen Dr. Willing for the foursomes to-day, said it was his desire 'to give everybody a chance.' He added that he would be under the foursomes to-day, said it was his desire 'to give everybody a chance.' He added that he would be under the foursomes to-day, said it was his desire 'to give everybody a chance.' # LIBERALS DIVIDE

Reunion Efforts Fail in Berwick, Scotland

London, May 18 (Canadian Press) -A sensation has developed in the by-election in Berwick, where the Liberals have been unexpectedly split into factions. The local leaders of the Liberal Party decided last Tuesday to support Mrs. Philipson, the actress, whose stage name is Mabel Russell and who is the wife of Captain Hilton Philipson, National Liberal M.P. recently unseated on petition.

on. Mrs. Philipson is the Conservative Mrs. Philipson is the Conservative candidate.

The National Liberals did not approve of the Berwick Liberals' decision and at a meeting presided over by Mr. Lloyd George it was decided that they should support the Independent Liberal candidate, Captain Robson. Sir Alfred Cope, on behalf of Mr. Lloyd George, hastened to the constituency and urged upon Sir Francis Blake, chairman of the Berwick National Liberal Association, that no such support as that profered to Mrs. Philipson as a Conservative candidate ought to be given in the present delicate position of the wished-for Liberal reunion.

Sympathy

en in the present delicate position of the wished-for Liberal reunion.

Sympathy

Sir Francis Blake replied that the decision in favor of Mrs. Philipson had been taken with the desire of expressing sympathy for Captain Philipson by voting for his wife.

"Personally I do not call this a political election at all," Sir Francis declared to Sir Alfred. "I call it a clearing of the air."

Mrs. Philipson has been very active in her campaign. Among the poorer classes of the constituency sympathy is extended to her because of what is called the "dirty trick" played on her husband in having been unseated on an election petition in matters in which he had played no real part.

The election of Captain Philipson was declared void because his agent had made faise and illegal returns and because corrupt practice in the election had been established in the courts.

American Party Paper Inti-mates Form of Opposition

Washington, May 18.—(Canadian Press)—The National Republican of ficial organ of the Republican National Committee, in an editorial, implies its objections to the plan of Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian Minister of Finance, for reciprocity with the United States.

After going into the history of efforts to bring about reciprocity between the two countries and the failure of the 1911 plan. The Republican says of the present effort:

"To protectionists, the great objection to reciprocity and tariff adjustment by treaty is that the principle of protection may be broken down and the doctrine of equality of treatment abandoned. Obviously, special reciprocity treaties may ultimately lead to the reduction of duties to a free trade level.

"The outcome of Canada's new proposal will be watched with deep interest."

Types of Chinese troops which, dispatches indicate, are being sent in pursuit of the brigands reported to have overpowered a train, capturing many passengers, including well-known Americans.

In an earlier chapter we have described the Roman republic, and its mixture of modern features with dark superstition and primordial savagery, as the Neanderthal anticipation of the modern democratic state. A time may come when people will regard the contrivances and machinery of the American constitution as the political equivalents of the implements and contrivances of Neolithic man. They have served their purpose well, and under their protection the people of the States have grown into one of the greatest, most powerful and most civilized communities that the world has yet seen. But there is no reason in that for regarding the American constitution as a thing more final and unalterable than the pattern of street railway.

In an earlier chapter we have described the Roman republic, and its merves, which hampers the whole growth hampers the whole growth of the social body.

"And the sights we see as well," said the tall Pine Tree. "How any tree can live in an orchard shut, in from the sky and the winds I cannot tell. The free life of the woods for me." And for the joy of being big, the Pine tossed its branches with a swishing sound of glee.

"And some day we may see more of the woods of the winds of the content of the woods of the winds of the content of the woods of the woods of the winds of the content of the woods of the winds of the content of the woods of the winds of the content of the woods of the winds of the content of the woods of the winds of the winds of the content of the woods of the winds of the woods of

I have much happiness to hear and I can think of no greater joy than to grow gnarled and bent under the happiness which is heaped upon me."

Very still and silent the big trees stood. They had no reply for such reasoning as that of the bent old tree. What they thought a burden, $70 from the salary of every teacher, junior or senior.

In place of this heavy cut on the lower paid staff, the Board unanimously decided the reduction should take the simpler form of a seven per cent reduction on the salaries paid at the present time, with a maximum reduction of $100 from the higher-paid teachers. By this concession beginers will draw $762.60 instead of the present $820, three years of experience will each add $75 to this total, while the cut made on nine higher paid teachers will be from $4 to $52 smaller than that involved in a straight seven per cent cut all around.

The Board wil save about $1,750 in the balance of this year, while next year's budget will be lowered by $2,540 for the six months remaining of this school year.

Loss of Premium.

A number of teachers who have been drawing $100 additional, on account of service in two-roomed ungraded schools, were discovered to be no longer eligible, their schools having been graded or enlarged since the granting of the special bonus. These individuals will suffer the loss of this premium in addition to the general reduction.

At the suggestion of H. E. Tanner, of Ward Six, the Board decided to call a public meeting of ratepayers at $ o'clock on Monday, May 28, at the Council Chamber or Royal Oak School, when a full explanation of the legal causes leading up to the Board's course will be given.

At this meeting a free discussion will be welcomed by the Board, with a view to ascertaining the strength of public opinion in favor of reduction in taxation.

Gorge Traffic Congestion Will Be Thing of Past Under New By-Law

An official warning issued by Chief Brogan of the Saanich Police force cites the passage of a by-law designed to ameliorate traffic congestion at the Gorge bridgehead during the holiday season. Esquimalt has already taken similar action in conformity. In years past, when there were special attractions at the Gorge, motor cars from the city lined the streets near the bridge to an extent that made traffic impossible. Caught in the middle of the Jam a motorist would often find that it took two hours to win free to where the roads were again unblocked. This traffic tie-up also affected free access to the Island Highway, and in times accidents became a very serious menace. The measure will be enforced to the letter.

The Saanich amending by-law, as it relates to the bridge traffic, follows:

(5-a) "No person shall be permitted to park any motor vehicle upon the following streets or portions of streets."

(a) "Tillicum Road — between Gorge Road and Gorge Bridge.

(b) "On the south side of the Gorge Road between Harriet Road and Crafiglower Bridge and upon the South side of Portage Avenue.

(c) "Upon the West side of Harriet Road, Qu'Appelle Street, Wascana Street, Earl Grey Street, Mill-grove Street, Donald Street, Orillis Frow's Street, Donald Street, Orillis Frow's Street, Donald Street, Orillis From's Event Policy on the West side of From the Cross," which is the work of Rubens and which hangs in the followers.

Canadian Legion Gives Patients Programme Which is Much Enjoyed

A delightful programme of music and recitation was given yesterday at the McBride Ward of the Jubilee Hospital by the Canadian Legion, under the convenership of Mrs. Thorpe. Capitain H. Despard Twigs was in the chair.

The programme decidedly pleased the audience, which recalled the performers again and again. The French-Canadian verse recited by Cyril Armbrister proved very enjoyable and highly amusing. The "Bal ad of Soulful Sam" and the "Wreck of the Julie Plante" proved favorites and the artist was recalled several times.

The singing was specially well received, and many were the encores demanded. The banjo solos and the steel guitar selections were also of the best. Miss May Mason and Miss Mercer were the vocalists. Mrs. E.
